

Everest Base Camp Trek – Nepal

Trek to Mount Everest Base Camp is one of those trips that make your holiday dreams come true. Hiking on the legendary foothills just below the mighty Everest with breathtaking views of the master peaks can only be found in the Everest Region. This famous trek is known worldwide for its trailblazing routes & the landscapes speak to your senses. On this trip you also peak out at the famous Kala Patthar (5,600m/18,373ft) view point for some grand upfront views of the highest mountain in the world. Everest Base Camp Trek also includes other famous 8 thousand peaks like Mt Lhotse (8,516m /27,940ft), Makalu (8,485m /27,838 ft) & the giant Cho-Oyu (8,201m /26,906ft). The culture in this particular area is of great notebook stuff & interacting with the local folks puts more zest into your adventurous journey as you plod through the khumbu region of Nepal.

This legendary trail is a psychological thrill for high & wild hikers who wish to tread the paths where legends walked before on their way to conquer Everest, some did some didn't but the Everest Base Camp trail keeps those legends alive for most trekkers who head to this region. The trip begins with a stirring mountain flight to Lukla, one of the world's highest mountains; & as soon as you touch down at that altitude, the rest is history. Your hike takes you to the popular village town of Namche, called the 'gateway to the Khumb' & from there on you walk through quiet monasteries & meet up with the well known Sherpa folks who inhabit this region & their culture is worth noting. On the way, we visit the Sagarmatha National Park, home to some rare fauna & flora, this also where we acclimatize for some time.
